1. Introduction

1.1 Welcome

AMS Security extends a warm welcome to you. Whether you are a new team member or an existing employee, we wish you every success in your role. We are committed to ensuring that your employment experience with us is safe, positive, and rewarding.

1.2 Purpose of this Handbook

This Handbook outlines the key rules, policies, and procedures of AMS Security, together with information about your rights, responsibilities, and entitlements during employment. It also explains the general standards of conduct expected of all employees. This Handbook is to be read in conjunction with the full suite of AMS Security Policies and Procedures, which together form the complete framework governing your employment. See Section 1.6 for further detail.

Important Notice

All employees must familiarise themselves with this Handbook. Failure to comply may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

If you are unclear about any aspect of this Handbook, seek clarification from your manager before acting.

1.3 Commitment to Equality and Fair Treatment

AMS Security is committed to providing equal employment opportunities and upholding the principles of fairness, equity, and respect in line with applicable workplace legislation.

Unlawful discrimination, harassment, or victimisation of colleagues, clients, contractors, suppliers, or members of the public will not be tolerated and may result in disciplinary action.

1.4 General Provisions

This Handbook may be amended from time to time to reflect legislative changes, operational requirements, or policy updates. Employees will be notified of such amendments.

This Handbook does not form part of your contract of employment unless expressly stated in writing. However, it may be considered when interpreting your rights and obligations.

1.5 Access to Industrial Instruments

Where relevant, employees have access to the Security Services Industry Award 2020 and the National Employment Standards (NES). Copies are available electronically upon request from management.

1.6 AMS Security Policies and Procedures

This Handbook provides an overview of the key terms and conditions of your employment and the general standards of conduct expected of all AMS Security employees. However, it does not cover every aspect of your role or the expectations of your employment with AMS Security.

All employees are required to familiarise themselves with, and comply with, the full suite of AMS Security Policies and Procedures. These documents form an integral part of your employment obligations and complement this Handbook by setting out the operational, safety, and conduct standards that apply to your role. The Policies and Procedures cover, but are not limited to, the following categories:

- Operational Policies and Procedures — covering day-to-day duties, site protocols, reporting obligations, and standard operating procedures
- Workplace Health and Safety (WHS) Policies and Procedures — covering your obligations, hazard identification, incident reporting, and safe work practices
- Human Resources (HR) Policies and Procedures — covering performance management, leave administration, and employee relations matters not addressed in full in this Handbook
- Environmental Policies and Procedures — covering your responsibilities in relation to environmental compliance and sustainability practices
- Site-Specific Policies and Procedures — covering the particular rules, access requirements, and conduct standards applicable to each individual client site at which you are deployed
- Site-Specific Risk Assessments — identifying hazards, risk controls, and safe work requirements relevant to each site at which you perform duties

Copies of all relevant Policies and Procedures will be made available to you during induction and throughout your employment. They are accessible via the AMS Security platform and Guardhouse document library. If you are unsure whether a particular policy applies to your role or site, speak with your manager before proceeding.

Failure to comply with any AMS Security Policy or Procedure may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

1.7 Annual Review and Acknowledgement of Policies and Procedures

All employees are required to read, understand, and sign an acknowledgement confirming their familiarity with all applicable AMS Security Policies and Procedures. This obligation applies in the following circumstances:

- Annually — each employee must re-read and re-sign acknowledgement of all applicable Policies and Procedures once every 12 months, regardless of whether changes have been made.
- Upon Amendment — where any Policy or Procedure is created, updated, or replaced, all affected employees are required to read, understand, and sign a fresh acknowledgement of the amended document before continuing to perform duties to which that policy applies.

AMS Security will notify employees when a Policy or Procedure has been created or amended and will provide reasonable time to review the updated document prior to sign-off. Signed acknowledgements are performed through the Guardhouse APP in the document library.

Failure to complete a required acknowledgement within the timeframe specified by management may be treated as a failure to follow a reasonable management direction and may result in disciplinary action.

2. Joining AMS Security

2.1 Induction

At the commencement of employment, you will be required to participate in an induction program covering AMS Security policies, procedures, and workplace health and safety requirements. Access to relevant documents and resources will be provided during induction and throughout your employment.

2.2 Certification and Clearance Requirements

All employees and contractors must hold and maintain, for the duration of their employment, any licences, certifications, and clearances required to lawfully and competently perform their duties. These may include, but are not limited to:

- A current and valid South Australian Security Licence
- A current Driver's Licence (where driving forms part of the role)
- A current First Aid and CPR certificate issued by a nationally recognised RTO
- A current Responsible Service of Alcohol (RSA) certification (where required)
- A current Working With Children Check (WWCC) (where required)
- A current National Police Clearance Certificate

AMS Security reserves the right to request evidence of any required licence or clearance at any stage of employment. Failure to maintain required credentials may result in redeployment, suspension, or disciplinary action up to and including termination.

2.3 Probationary Period

The length of your probationary period is set out in your employment contract. Casual employees are not subject to probation. During probation, performance, conduct, and suitability will be assessed. The Employer may provide additional support or training, extend the probationary period, or terminate employment where concerns arise.

2.4 Employee Training

You will be provided with training necessary for your role at commencement of employment. As business needs evolve, you may be required to undertake additional training including:

- Refresher training on AMS Security policies and procedures
- Client site inductions
- Compliance or industry-mandated training

All employees are expected to participate fully in all required training.

2.5 Job Description

A job description may be provided to outline your key responsibilities. The Employer reserves the right to update your job description to reflect changing business needs, provided the changes are reasonable and consistent with your role.

2.6 Performance and Review

AMS Security monitors performance on an ongoing basis to ensure employees are meeting expectations. Formal performance reviews may be conducted as required.

2.7 Availability

Employees must provide their availability to the Employer in writing.

- Casual employees: Changes to availability may impact hours offered.
- Permanent employees: Changes to contracted availability may only occur by mutual agreement.

All changes to availability must be submitted in writing to management.

2.8 Job Flexibility

You may be required to perform alternative or additional duties from time to time, including covering colleagues during leave or working across different sites.

2.9 Mobility

It is a condition of employment that you may be directed to perform duties at any AMS Security or client site within a reasonable travel distance. Reasonable consideration will be given to your personal circumstances.

2.10 Convictions and Offences

Employees must immediately notify the Employer if they are charged with or convicted of a criminal offence. Failure to disclose may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

> ⚠ Important — Ongoing Licence and Clearance Obligations
> Your security licence, first aid and CPR certificates, police clearance, and any other required certifications must remain current throughout your employment. If any credential expires, is suspended, or is revoked, you must notify management immediately. Working without the required legal authorisations may constitute serious misconduct.

3. Remuneration and Hours

3.1 Payment

Wages are processed fortnightly in arrears:

- Standard employees: processed Tuesday, normally available Wednesday (subject to bank processing times).
- Retail guard employees: processed Thursday, normally available Friday.

You will receive an itemised payslip showing gross pay, deductions, and net pay. Pay queries should be directed promptly to management. Pay details are strictly confidential and must not be discussed with other employees.

Overpayments

If you are overpaid, the Employer is entitled to recover the overpayment, normally by deduction from your next wage payment. If this would cause financial hardship, a repayment arrangement may be agreed.

Overtime

All overtime must be authorised by your AMS Supervisor or management before being worked. Unapproved overtime will not be paid.

Pay Reviews

Wages are reviewed annually in July. A review does not guarantee a pay increase unless required by legislation, Award obligations, or written contract.

3.2 Superannuation

Superannuation contributions will be made on your behalf in accordance with the Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992 and applicable legislation.

3.3 Time Recording

Employees must clock on and off duty, and for breaks, using the Guardhouse App. Failure to record time correctly may delay wage processing until the following pay period.

> ⚠ Time Fraud — Zero Tolerance
> Falsification of time records, including clocking in or out for another employee or allowing another employee to do so on your behalf, is considered serious misconduct and may result in termination of employment.

3.4 Hours of Work

Employees may be rostered Monday through Sunday. The Employer operates 24 hours per day, seven days per week. Hours of operation and roster requirements may change to meet client or operational needs.

3.5 Lateness and Absenteeism

- Notify your supervisor as soon as possible if you will be late, advising your expected arrival time.
- Pay may be deducted for lateness. If more than one hour late without notice, your shift may be reassigned.
- If you become unfit for work, seek approval from your manager before leaving. A medical certificate may be required.
- Unauthorised lateness or absence may result in disciplinary action.

3.6 Breaks

Breaks must be taken at the times directed by the Employer. You must adhere to the allocated break length and return to duty promptly. If you are unable to take your scheduled break, notify management immediately.

3.7 Shortage of Work

If a temporary shortage of work occurs, the Employer will endeavour to maintain continuity of employment. By employee agreement, this may involve reduced hours or leave without pay. Employees may elect to use accrued annual leave.

3.8 Stand Down

The Employer may lawfully stand you down without pay where there is no useful work available, including due to equipment breakdown, industrial action, or circumstances beyond the Employer's control (e.g., natural disaster, government direction). Employees may access accrued leave entitlements by agreement during stand down.

4. Leave Entitlements

The following leave types are provided in accordance with the Security Services Industry Award 2020 and the National Employment Standards (NES) under the Fair Work Act 2009:

- Annual Leave
- Personal/Carer's Leave and Compassionate Leave
- Parental Leave
- Community Service Leave
- Family and Domestic Violence Leave
- Public Holidays

Further Information
Full details of entitlements, notice requirements, and evidence obligations for each leave type are set out in the Security Services Industry Award 2020. Employees may request a copy from management at any time.

4.1 Long Service Leave

Long service leave entitlements are provided in accordance with the legislation of the state or territory in which you are employed.

4.2 Time Off for Appointments

Appointments (medical, dental, etc.) should be scheduled outside working hours wherever possible. Where this is not possible, time off may be approved at management's discretion and will usually be unpaid unless other leave entitlements are applied.

4.3 Personal Leave — Notice and Evidence Requirements

Where you are absent due to illness or injury, you must:

- Notify your supervisor as soon as reasonably practicable before the commencement of your shift.
- Provide a medical certificate or statutory declaration for absences of more than two consecutive days, or where management reasonably requests it.
- Not contact management by text message or email alone to notify an unplanned absence — a phone call is required.

5. Safeguards

5.1 Rights of Search

The Employer reserves the right to conduct searches of employees and/or their property (including vehicles) while on company premises or performing work duties.

- Searches will, where practicable, be conducted in the presence of a colleague of your choice.
- You may be required to remove the contents of pockets, bags, or vehicles for inspection.
- You have the right to refuse a search. However, refusal may be considered a failure to follow a lawful management direction and may result in disciplinary action.
- The Employer reserves the right to involve police authorities at any stage.

5.2 Information Technology and Computer Use

(i) Authorised Use

Only authorised employees may access company computer systems. Software and applications must be approved by management before use. No software or data may be removed from or introduced to company systems without prior authorisation.

(ii) Internet Use

The internet may be used for legitimate business purposes only. Employees must not:

- Access, download, or distribute offensive, pornographic, or inappropriate material
- Use company systems for personal, illegal, or non-work-related purposes
- Breach copyright, licensing, or intellectual property rights
- Engage in hacking, unauthorised access, or activities that compromise security

(iii) Email Use

Work email is provided for legitimate business purposes only. Employees must use professional and respectful language, maintain confidentiality, and avoid sending abusive, discriminatory, or harassing messages.

(iv) Monitoring

All company systems are company property and may be monitored, reviewed, and recorded without prior notice. This includes browsing history, time online, content shared, and emails sent and received. By using company systems, you consent to such monitoring. Information obtained may be used in disciplinary proceedings.

5.3 Social Media

- Employees must not post work-related matters on social media without prior written authorisation.
- Where authorised, posts must be professional and must not bring the Employer or its clients into disrepute.
- Personal use of social media during work time is prohibited.

5.4 Phones and Devices

- Company phones, laptops, body cameras, and devices are to be used strictly for work purposes.
- Personal mobile phones should not be used during work hours unless for work-related reasons.
- Mobile phones must remain accessible so management can contact you when required.
- Mobile phones must never be used where this poses a safety risk or interferes with duties.

5.5 Surveillance

Workplace surveillance may include internet and email monitoring, CCTV, and audio or electronic recording systems. Surveillance may occur at any time at the Employer's discretion, and records may be used for security, safety, or disciplinary purposes. Surveillance will not occur in bathrooms, change rooms, or any location prohibited by law.

> ⚠ Unauthorised Recording
> Unauthorised secret recordings of workplace conversations or activities may constitute serious misconduct and may also carry criminal penalties under South Australian law.

6. Standards of Conduct

6.1 Behaviour at Work

Employees must act with professionalism, civility, and respect toward colleagues, clients, and the public at all times. Offensive, insulting, or abusive behaviour will not be tolerated. Employees must devote full attention to work duties during paid hours.

6.2 Customer Service

Employees are expected to maintain high standards of customer service including promptly attending to duties, greeting customers courteously, communicating clearly and professionally, and respecting confidentiality and customer property.

6.3 Client Premises

While working at client sites, access is restricted to authorised areas only. Personal searches of client premises, removal of items, or unauthorised photography are strictly prohibited. Any breach will be considered serious misconduct.

6.4 Damage to Property

Employees are responsible for taking reasonable care when using client or company property. Wilful or negligent damage may result in financial liability, and disciplinary action may also apply.

6.5 Tools and Equipment

Employees are responsible for all tools and equipment issued to them. Reasonable care must be taken to prevent loss or damage. Equipment must be returned upon request or at the end of employment.

6.6 Gifts and Gratuities

Employees must not accept gifts, benefits, discounts, entertainment, or hospitality from clients, suppliers, or vendors regardless of value, unless expressly approved in writing by management.

6.7 Media

Employees must not comment to or engage with the media regarding the Employer or its clients. All media enquiries must be referred immediately to the Managing Director.

6.8 Friends and Family in the Workplace

Friends and family are not permitted in the workplace except in emergencies or for approved, legitimate business purposes. Approval must be obtained in advance where practicable.

6.9 Conflict of Interest

Employees must avoid any actual or potential conflicts of interest. Where a conflict arises, it must be disclosed immediately to management. The Employer may take steps to resolve the conflict, which may include reassignment, shift changes, or termination.

6.10 Wastage

Employees are expected to support a “minimum waste” approach by conserving electricity and resources, handling equipment with care, and avoiding unnecessary use of company time and resources.

6.11 Dress and Appearance

Employees must maintain a professional appearance, good hygiene, and wear the designated uniform and PPE at all required times.

- Clean, ironed uniform worn in full at all times while on duty
- Tattoos covered while on duty
- Black steel-capped boots with dark socks
- Neat, trimmed hair and facial hair
- No excessive jewellery — only small studs, wedding bands, or simple rings permitted

- White undershirts only (no prints or colours)
- Uniform badges covered when travelling to and from work

Uniforms and PPE must be returned at the end of employment. Costs may be deducted from final pay where items are not returned. Failure to comply with dress requirements may result in being sent home without pay and/or disciplinary action.

7. Client Interactions and Professional Boundaries

7.1 Overview

This section outlines the standards of professionalism AMS Security requires of all employees when interacting with clients, tenants, contractors, and members of the public. Clear professional boundaries protect both the employee and the reputation of AMS Security.

7.2 Prohibited Conduct

Employees must not engage in inappropriate or non-professional relationships with clients, client employees, tenants, or customers. Prohibited conduct includes:

- Connecting on personal social media platforms (e.g., “friending” or following)
- Exchanging personal contact details (phone numbers, emails, social media accounts)
- Communicating with such persons outside of work duties and hours, unless expressly authorised
- Attending social events at the invitation of any such person, except where approved by the Employer
- Becoming involved in the personal or non-work-related matters of any such person

7.3 Employee Responsibilities

- Adhere strictly to this policy when on duty or representing the Employer.
- Avoid and report any inappropriate personal relationship or conflict of interest.
- Immediately notify the Operations Manager if a personal relationship exists or develops with a client or related person.
- Politely and professionally decline invitations to attend social gatherings organised by clients unless expressly directed to attend by the Employer.

7.4 On-Duty Conduct

While on duty or in AMS Security uniform, employees must maintain professional communication, avoid fraternisation, not attend client functions with a partner unless authorised in writing, and avoid wearing the uniform in venues such as hotels or bars.

8. General Terms

8.1 Changes in Personal Details

Employees must promptly notify the Employer of any changes to personal details, including name, address, phone number, emergency contact, banking details, or licensing information.

8.2 Secondary Employment

Any additional employment or self-employment must be disclosed in writing and approved by the Employer in advance. The Employer will consider working hours and fatigue, conflicts of interest, reputational risks, and health and safety. Undertaking secondary employment without approval may result in disciplinary action.

8.3 Banking and Expenses

Employees will be reimbursed for reasonable pre-approved business expenses supported by valid receipts. Employer credit cards and accounts must only be used for authorised business purposes. Misuse will be treated as serious misconduct.

8.4 Employee Property and Lost Property

The Employer does not accept responsibility for personal property brought onto client or company premises. Employees are discouraged from bringing items of high value to work and must take reasonable care of their belongings.

9. Whistleblower Policy

9.1 Introduction

AMS Security is committed to the highest standards of integrity, ethics, and accountability. In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), this policy provides protections for eligible whistleblowers who disclose misconduct or an improper situation without fear of victimisation, harassment, or discriminatory treatment.

9.2 Who is Protected

This policy applies to any individual who is, or has been, associated with AMS Security, including employees, officers, directors, contractors, suppliers, consultants, and their employees, as well as relatives or spouses of any of the above.

9.3 What to Report

Reportable conduct includes, but is not limited to:

- Dishonest, fraudulent, or corrupt activity
- Misuse of company funds or resources
- Unlawful or unethical conduct
- Misleading or improper accounting or reporting practices
- Unsafe practices or serious risks to health, safety, or the environment
- Serious misconduct likely to cause financial or reputational harm

Personal workplace grievances (e.g., interpersonal conflicts) generally do not constitute reportable conduct and should be managed under the Grievance Policy, unless they involve retaliation against a whistleblower.

9.4 Reporting Channels

Disclosures may be made to a Senior Manager or an Eligible Recipient (Director, Officer, or external auditor). Disclosures may be made in person, by phone, or by email. Disclosers should clearly state that they are making a report under this policy.

9.5 Investigation and Confidentiality

Reports will be assessed to determine if they fall within the scope of reportable conduct. Investigations will be fair, objective, and proportionate. Disclosers may remain anonymous. Identifying information will not be shared without consent, except where legally required.

9.6 Protections

A whistleblower making a protected disclosure will not be subject to civil, criminal, or disciplinary liability. The Employer strictly prohibits retaliation. Any retaliation will be treated as serious misconduct and may result in disciplinary action, as well as potential civil or criminal liability.

10. Capability

10.1 General Capability Issues

Where concerns arise about your ability to perform your role, the Employer will clearly explain the required standards, provide reasonable training and guidance, and discuss concerns informally in the first instance.

If performance remains unsatisfactory, a written warning may be issued outlining required improvements. If, after a reasonable period, there is no improvement or no alternative role is available, employment may be terminated with appropriate notice.

10.2 Health and Personal Circumstances

Where health or personal circumstances affect your ability to perform normal duties, the Employer may request medical information (with your consent) to assess your capability. Following consultation, a decision will be made regarding your continued employment or transfer to alternative duties.

11. Disciplinary Policy

11.1 Introduction

This policy sets out the standards of performance and behaviour expected by the Employer and the procedures followed if disciplinary issues arise. The purpose is to promote fairness and consistency, encourage improvement, and ensure employees are given the opportunity to be heard.

Employees will not normally be dismissed for a first breach of discipline unless the conduct amounts to serious misconduct. Employees have the right to be accompanied by a support person at all formal disciplinary hearings.

11.2 Examples of Unsatisfactory Conduct

- Breach of health and safety procedures or reckless actions affecting safety
- Persistent absenteeism or lateness
- Unsatisfactory work standards or performance
- Rudeness, harassment, bullying, or offensive language
- Unauthorised use of company email, internet, or social media
- Failure to follow reasonable management instructions
- Unauthorised or inappropriate use of company property or vehicles
- Failure to report accidents, incidents, or driving convictions

11.3 Serious Misconduct

Serious misconduct may result in immediate termination without notice. Examples include:

- Theft, fraud, or other criminal conduct
- Violence, threats, bullying, or harassment
- Serious breaches of health and safety obligations
- Deliberate damage to company or client property
- Possession or influence of illegal drugs at work
- Serious acts of discrimination or sexual harassment
- Working without required licences or legal authorisations

11.4 Disciplinary Outcomes

Misconduct	Final Warning	Termination	—	—
Serious Misconduct	Termination	—	—	—

The Employer reserves the right to bypass stages depending on the seriousness of the matter, the employee's length of service, and the circumstances.

12. Bullying and Harassment

12.1 Policy Statement

AMS Security is committed to providing a safe, respectful, and inclusive workplace. Bullying, harassment, and discrimination are unacceptable and will not be tolerated under any circumstances.

12.2 Harassment

Harassment is any unwanted conduct (verbal, physical, written, or online) based on a protected attribute such as sex, race, disability, age, religion, or sexual orientation that offends, humiliates, intimidates, or creates a hostile environment. A single incident may constitute harassment.

12.3 Bullying

Bullying is repeated unreasonable behaviour directed towards a worker or group that creates a risk to health and safety. Examples include abusive comments, persistent unjustified criticism, threats, exclusion, spreading rumours, or withholding information or resources needed to perform work.

12.4 Reasonable Management Action

Reasonable actions taken in a fair and respectful way do not constitute bullying or harassment. This includes setting performance goals, providing constructive feedback, managing performance concerns, or making operational changes.

12.5 Complaint Procedure

Employees who experience or witness bullying or harassment are encouraged to raise concerns early.

- Informal: Speak directly with the person involved (if safe to do so) or raise the matter confidentially with a senior colleague.
- Formal: Submit a written complaint to management including details of the conduct, dates, witnesses, and any prior actions taken.

The Employer will investigate all complaints fairly and confidentially. Employees who make genuine complaints will not be victimised. Deliberately false or malicious complaints will be treated as misconduct.

13. Sexual Harassment

13.1 Policy Statement

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination and is unlawful under the Sex Discrimination Act 1984 and the Fair Work Act 2009. It will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment can seriously affect morale, confidence, health, and performance for those directly affected and for witnesses.

13.2 Definition

Sexual harassment is any unwelcome sexual behaviour that could reasonably be expected to offend, humiliate, or intimidate a person. It can be physical, verbal, or written. A single incident may constitute harassment. Examples include:

- Unwelcome touching, staring, or leering
- Suggestive comments, jokes, or taunts
- Sharing sexually explicit materials
- Unwanted invitations or requests for sex
- Behaviour that may be criminal (e.g., sexual assault, stalking, indecent exposure)

13.3 Complaint Procedure

Informal

You may raise concerns with a senior colleague if a formal grievance is not appropriate. You may ask the harasser to stop the behaviour directly, or provide a written request with assistance from a confidential helper.

Formal

If informal resolution fails or the harassment is serious, submit a written complaint to management including names, dates, witnesses, and any prior actions taken. Investigations will normally conclude within 10 working days, and outcomes will be communicated in writing.

13.4 General Notes

- Well-founded complaints will result in appropriate action against the harasser.
- Complaints made in good faith will not result in victimisation.
